

LMX_OPT_LICENSE_IDLE

|         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|---------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| eOption | LMX_OPT_LICENSE_IDLE This flag specifies whether license idling is enabled. When enabled, no heartbeats are sent to the license server, resulting in the license server releasing the licenses after 5 minutes (configurable as described in License server). |
| Setting | Possible values: An integer, as follows: 0 (disabled)1 (enabled) Default value: 0 (disabled)                                                                                                                                        |