

Installing License Statistics

The procedure for installing License Statistics depends on whether you are installing it on Windows or Linux.

Before installing the application, decide how you will manage the database. License Statistics provides an embedded database and supports external installations. We strongly recommend that you use an embedded database only for testing and evaluation purposes, and use an external database for production purposes.