

License Statistics Installation

You can install License Statistics on Windows or Linux. For Windows installation instructions, see Installing License Statistics on Windows. For Linux installation instructions, see Installing License Statistics on Linux.

Note that administrator privileges are required on Windows; however, this is not required for Linux.

See System requirements before beginning installation to ensure you meet all requirements to run License Statistics successfully.