

Activating licenses using email

Your end users can activate their license by sending an email containing their activation key and HostID to license@x-formation.com. For more information, see Activating your license using email in the License Activation Center End User Guide.