KEY

The KEY directive is set by the license generator, and is checked against to ensure that the content of the block has not been modified. This directive can also hold custom data embedded for usage with the protected application.

To add custom data, use the KEYCOMMENT setting. Note that the OPTIONS and COMMENT settings are also validated in the key.