

Using the End User Portal

The End User Portal is a platform that lets you or your end users activate and download a software license online. This is where you can activate licenses belonging to a bulk license order, as well as individual licenses.

The portal's responsive page layout adjusts itself to the size of the specific device, letting you use the portal across a wide range of devices such as smartphones, laptop computers, tablets and so on.

For instructions on how to enter the End User Portal, see Accessing the End User Portal.
