

Customer-driven development

X-Formation releases new versions of software several times a year, as part of our commitment to providing you with the best possible solutions to your unique business needs.

Our ability to provide frequent, stable updates that solve real issues for our user community is attributable to our customer-driven development methodology. Our development teams work in 2-week cycles to implement the enhancements and bug fixes that our customers report to us. This gives us a great deal of flexibility when planning what will be included in a given release, and enables us to reliably provide new releases in relatively short time frames.

Be sure to let us know about any ideas or fixes you would like to see in X-Formation products. With our customer-driven development, we are ready and able to listen to what our customers want, and deliver solutions quickly.