

Additional/Other settings

The information on this page refers to License Statistics v6.6 or newer, which introduced the License Statistics Manager, a tool that replaces direct editing of the xflcstat.cfg configuration file for Windows installations. If you are using an earlier version of License Statistics, please refer to the documentation for releases prior to v6.6.

The xflcstat.cfg configuration file includes a section labeled "Additional settings." For Windows, these settings are found under "Other" settings of the License Statistics Manager Configuration Settings.

Do not change these settings unless X-Formation Support advises you to do so, as using improper values for these settings can cause performance issues or system instability.
